NEW YORK HERALD BELIEVES BRYAN WILL SWEEP COUNTRY

CHANGE OF HEART IN MANY STATES

ROOSEVELT STATES ARE NOW HELD AS DOUBTFUL

NEB. BLUE FOR REPUBLICANS

IMPORTANT STATES IN WEST MAY BE FOR COMMONER

HITCHCOCK IS FRIGHTENED

His Conference in West Said to Be Brought About by Knowledge of Growing Bryan Sentiment

NEW YORK, July 21.—Under the heading "Hitchcock Finds Bryan Strength Growing in the West," the Herald today prints a summary and commentary of the Hitchcock conference at Colorado Springs, which it calls the "political event of first magnitude."

Commenting on Hitchcock's entry into national politics it recalls the fact that both Mark Hanna and Cortelyou had to whip the older members of the national committee into line before they could get even a measure of co-operation and intimates in his invasion of the west for Taft, Hitchcock may find serious trouble along the same lines. It says:

"It has been disclosed that the Roosevelt country of 1904 has experienced enough of a change of heart to make a half dozen states the democrats didn't carry then, doubtful fighting ground."

In a table of probabilities it gives the democrats only 25 votes with Texas and Oklahoma as sure, and the republicans 33 votes with Idaho, Kansas, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington, Wyoming and other states of the west classed doubtful ground.

"It is broadly hinted Bryan may sweep all. To Victor Rosewater, is laid the report to Hitchcock that the republican outlook in Nebraska is blue."

"Ollie James, Kentucky, and other democrats were interested spectators at the republican war council. James is quoted as saying, 'the reason Hitchcock is holding a conference is because we got him scared.'"

"Hitchcock is quoted as replying: 'Perhaps James is not scared now, but I'm sure he will be when the results of our plans become apparent to him too late. I'd rather be scared now than in November.'"

EXAMINE SCAPEGOAT FOR HIS SANITY

NEW YORK, July 21.—When John Van Rensselaer, the oldest son of Mrs. John King Rensselaer, whose written suggestion that blowing off his attic mother's strings landed him in a cell here and whose case was called today, was sent to Bellevue for examination of his sanity by Magistrate Corrigan.

Before Van Rensselaer reached headquarters today A. Russell Peabody, counsel for Harry Thaw, held a long conference with the magistrate. He made it plain he was acting merely as a friend. What arguments he used Peabody refused to divulge.

SENATOR VILAS IS NOT IMPROVED

DISTINGUISHED BADGER MAY NOT SURVIVE DAY

CHANGE IS EXPECTED SOON

Attending Physician Says if Improvement Is Not Noted Soon His Demise Will Follow

MADISON, Wis., July 21.—(Special.)—Dr. Philip Fox today gave out the following statement:

"At 1 o'clock the condition of W. F. Vilas has not improved during the last twelve hours. Not an indication for the better has been noted. I expect a change during the next six hours. He cannot remain long in this unconscious state."

The doctor said if the patient did not grow better soon his demise might be expected within 36 hours. Assemblyman Elver will present a resolution to the democratic state convention tomorrow deploring Vilas' illness.

CIRCUS CROOKS ARE SCARCE

Outside of the usual number of beggars, cripples and other general followers of large crowds and circuses, today has been a quiet day in the police circles. The entire force, both the day and night men were put to work patrolling the streets and keeping a lookout for sneak thieves and crooks. The arrests have been exceedingly small in comparison to other years. Several beggars were picked up, who had been canvassing the resident section in quest of a meal or small change and a colored cripple, William Smith, was taken in tow. Smith had been begging about the city and was locked up this morning by Officer Wolf. All the arrests that have been made so far have been confined to beggars and cripples and all will probably be ushered out of the city tomorrow.

During the parade this morning an elderly lady, a visitor to the city, stated she had lost her watch that she was wearing pinned on her waist but she made no report to the police and so far no clew has been found.

The police report no complaints of lost articles.

ROJESTVENSKY IS VERY MUCH ALIVE

BERLIN, July 21.—Like Mark Twain, Admiral Rojestvensky has arisen to state that the "report of his death has been greatly exaggerated."

A special dispatch received this afternoon from Naubheim denies the Russian is dead. It states another man of the same name died a few days ago, and the report was sent to St. Petersburg that the admiral was dead.

The situation has resulted in considerable comment on the part of the press here owing to the fact that the Russians who heretofore treated the defeated commander with scorn, have since the report of his death, rushed into print with glowing testimonials of his valor and worth.

CHILD DIES OF SPINAL MENINGITIS

Edward S. Johnson, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, 705 Pine street, died at the St. Francis hospital this morning at 6 o'clock from spinal meningitis. The little fellow was 4 years and 6 months old and had been sick only a short time when the end came. The body will be shipped tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock on the Northwestern to Chicago. Frank Tillman is in charge of the case.

VACATION DAYS

Y. M. C. A. RUNNERS BREAK THE RECORD

OUTRUN THE SCHEDULE BY 11 HOURS 55 MIN.

FINISH N. Y.-CHICAGO* RUN

Silver Tubed Message is Delivered to Mayor Busse This A. M. 9:40—Running Time 115 Hrs. 47 Sec.

CHICAGO, July 21.—The great relay race between New York and Chicago ended at 9:40 this morning when William McCabe, Evanston Y. M. C. A., sprinted into the city hall amid the cheers of ten thousand and delivered to Burnham Dean, Mayor Busse's secretary, the silver tubed message from Mayor McClellan, New York.

The runners set a record for the distance originally set for the event was broken by 11 hours and 55 minutes.

A hundred thousand lined the route of the runners, from the city limits to the city hall and cheered as the fleet lads dashed past. Over 200 autos followed the runners in Michigan avenue on the last stretch.

The start was made last Wednesday at 10 in the morning, the total running time being 115 hours, 47 seconds. The Chicago boys made the best time in the race, covering 115 miles in eleven hours, averaging 10½ miles an hour.

This afternoon the Y. M. C. A. officials will be officially received by Mayor Busse.

RAILWAY OUT OF WAR DEPARTMENT

TOKIO, July 21.—An imperial ordinance orders the South Manchurian railway, in Kwan Tung province, administration hereafter controlled solely by the minister of communications, instead of the minister of war.

The order is the result of the policy of the new premier, Katsura, for retrenchment in the army, in obedience to the compact between Russia, England and China, whereby the Manchurian government is taken out of the control of the Japanese army.

THIRTY INJURED IN A COLLISION

AURORA, Ill., July 21.—About 30 persons were injured, several fatally, in a head on collision between two cars on the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago interurban at 8 o'clock today. The injured were taken to the hospitals. The wreck occurred four miles north of here, and is believed to have been caused by a misunderstanding of orders. The cars carried 150 passengers. Both train were running at high speed and were telescoped.

FRENCH AND RUSS WILL AID THE SHAH

POWERS AGREE TO AID IF HE IS DEFEATED

SOLDIERS RECAPTURE TABRIZ

More Atrocities Are Believed to Be Result of New Invasion of Rachin Khan's Men

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—M. Touchard, French ambassador to Russia and Russian Foreign Minister Isvolsky today reached an agreement that France and Russia will aid Turkey if the sultan proves unable to crush the Macedonian uprising. Other powers, they say, will be forced to join them in preserving the integrity of the Turkish empire.

Tabriz Recaptured.

Joined by heavy reinforcements Rachin Khan, leader of the Shah's troops, made an unexpected attack on Tabriz from which he was driven last week, and after a sharp bombardment, recaptured the town from the revolutionists according to an official communication today.

Russian Consul Pohltonoff wired begging for a protection for the women and children from the violence of Rachin Khan's men.

Details of the recapture of the city are lacking, but it is believed another session of carnage is being enacted. Following the evacuation of the city by the Shah's troops the revolutionists butchered many loyalists in revenge and it is believed the Shah's soldiers will repeat the atrocities that marked their first entry to the city.

VIRGINIA BOOMERS CALL ON TAFT

HOT SPRINGS, Va., July 21.—Hardly was the ink dry on the envelopes which today carried the copies of Taft's revised speech of acceptance to Roosevelt and Root, when Taft was called on by a big delegation of Virginia politicians, all full of the idea that Bryan may be beaten in their state. The delegation was led by Representative Sloop, who urged Taft to receive the large delegation of republicans from all over the state. Taft has made no decision at this time.

ARTHUR MEEKER ON UNIVERSITY BOARD

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 21.—The governor today appointed Arthur Meeker, of Chicago, on the board of trustees of the University of Illinois in place of L. H. Kerrick, of Bloomington, who died two years ago. A. P. Groat, of Scott county, was named to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Alexander McLean of Macomb a year ago.

DENTISTS FAVOR DISTRICT DIVISION

PRESIDENT SOUNDS "KEYNOTE" IN SPEECH TODAY

MAYOR WELCOMES DELEGATES

First Session Heard Committee Report and Adjournment is Taken Until This Evening

With an address of welcome by Mayor Anderson the Wisconsin State Dental Society convention was formally opened this afternoon.

The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock and the mayor, in his address, assured the visiting delegates that everything La Crosse had to offer was theirs.

Dr. H. L. Banzah of Milwaukee responded to the mayor's welcome. After he had finished the report of the committee on reorganization was read and he reported that the committee was in favor of the proposition to reorganize the state society into districts, the members of each district organization to belong to the Wisconsin State Dental society. The convention will act on this proposition Wednesday.

The annual address of the president, Dr. H. Cudworth of Milwaukee, was next on the program. Mr. Cudworth spoke at some length on the history of the organization, its growth and what the real work of the society is. He mentioned that the first president of the society was Dr. D. W. Perkins of Milwaukee, while the first chairman was Dr. Edgar Palmer of this city. The dentists organized here in La Crosse 30 years ago with these officers. That he is in favor of the proposition to organize the society into districts was shown in his speech when he recommended such a move.

This evening at 8 o'clock an interesting paper by Dr. M. N. Feder-spiel of Milwaukee will be read. The subject is "Mouth Breathing—Its Effect Upon the Development of the Dental Arches and Occlusions." The discussion on this will be opened by Dr. Miland Knapp of Minneapolis, Minn.

DEAL CLOSED FOR REGIMENTAL BAND

The Third Regiment band of Viroqua has been engaged by Mr. William Doerflinger to furnish the music for the Sunday picnic to be held here during the saengerfest. It has been expected that this band would be obtained but the deal was just closed today.

Mrs. R. J. Trenary of Peru, Ill., has gone home after visiting her sister, Mrs. W. F. Adams.

LABOR TRIAL IS CAPITAL FOR DEMS.

BRYAN ASKS WASHINGTON FOR PARTICULARS

DISTRICT VICE-PRESIDENTS

Appointed in Every Section to Be Held Responsible, Thus Assuring Hot Locality Campaigns

LINCOLN, Neb., July 21.—Bryan today sent to Washington for full particulars of the court proceedings against Gompers, Mitchell and others. He believes the hearing will show the necessity of the enactment of the law suggested by the democratic platform granting the defendants the right of a jury trial for the alleged contempt, which Bryan holds was not committed within the presence of the court, and that the court has not the right to summarily punish for it.

The democratic leaders plan to have the case come to trial Sept. 3, the date set, so if the laboring men are adjudged guilty it will bring the situation directly home to organized labor, which will be a great benefit to them.

Calls on Bryan for speeches are becoming insistent, and are puzzling the Commoner, but the matter will largely be disposed of by the national committee in Chicago Saturday. The national committee will also appoint national vice chairmen for every section of the country. The campaign in their districts will be under their direct supervision, and they will be held responsible. Bryan himself builds great hopes on this innovation and believes it will result in locality fighting such as never before has marked a national campaign.

Bryan today issued a statement that has made no promises of appointments, and would make none, before the votes had been counted. He spent most of the morning dictating speeches covering the salient points of the campaign, into phonographic records for widespread distribution.

MOTHER WITH BABES SUICIDES IN RIVER

NEW YORK, July 21.—Despondent because of ill health and fearful of the fate which might await her two children, a boy of 4 and a girl of 2 years, if they were left alone to face the world, Mrs. Gussie Benson sought peace for all beneath the waters of the East river. The bodies of the mother and her little ones were taken from the water and lie side by side in the morgue awaiting burial.

For several years Mrs. Benson had lived with her husband and children on a South Dakota farm, but when her health failed she decided to return to her old home in this city. When the change of scene failed to have the hoped for effect upon her health, Mrs. Benson became despondent. On Wednesday she started for a walk with the little ones and did not return. It is believed that Mrs. Benson sprang from a ferryboat with the children in her arms.

$87,000 SUIT IS CAUSED BY MUSKRAT

LEWISTON, Ill., July 21.—A muskrat bored a hole, it is said, in the Lacy levee and let a destructive flood from the Illinois river pour in on several thousand acres of rich bottom lands. Crops were wiped out and large damage done. As a result of the muskrat's work suits were filed yesterday in the circuit court here against John W. Rhodes and Dennis Cullinane asking for $87,500 damages. The principal claimant is A. L. Laungallies, who bas his suit on the breaking of the levee.

LYNCH NEGROES IN ARSON CASE

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 21.—It is now learned that three instead of two negroes were lynched in Catahoula parish, Louisiana, for the incendiary preaching of a negro "prophet" named Albert Godin.

Godin is alleged to have called for the burning of the cotton gin of Capt. J. W. Swayne, and his order is said to have been carried out by Sam and Miller Gaines, brothers.

Godin and both of his converts were hanged.

MAY ABANDON GRAND PRIX.

PARIS, July 21.—At a meeting of the sporting committee of the Auto Club of France a proposition was discussed to abandon the Grand Prix on the ground that a contest for specially constructed racing machines, with the almost invariable attendant accidents, was not justified from the standpoint of either sport or as a test of the merits of machines manufactured for the public. A decision was postponed until the September meeting.

YANKEE ATHLETES IN THE LIMELIGHT IN OLYMPIAD TODAY

THREE WORLD'S RECORDS ARE BROKEN BY AMERICANS

CHEERED BY THE BRITISH

COLD "BROTHERS" WARM UP TO WESTERN GAMENESS

THREE STARS SOAR HIGH

Jumper Porter, Runner Shephard and Hurdler Hillman Win Cheers By Star Performances

LONDON, July 21.—World's records went by the board today with the United States athletes furnishing the spectacular features of by far the most exciting day of the meet. The high jumping by Porter, of the New York Irish-American team, of 6 feet 3 inches, breaking the Olympic record, and the victory of Melvin Shephard, of the same club, in the final 800 meter run in which he established a new world's mark of 1 minute 52.4-5 seconds, were the particular performances which set the crowd wild. Just to show he was running well "within himself," Shephard continued until he had completed the half mile, which he negotiated in 1:54. Another New Yorker to get squarely in the limelight was Harry Hillman, who in the semi-finals of the 400 meter hurdle cleared the bars at 56.3-5. This is, too, a new Olympic record, and the great crowd had another yell of approval with which to greet the Yankees.

The gameness of the American athletes has at last won the slow yielding admiration of the British, and today the American athletes were cheered whenever they entered or left the field. The attitude of the English shows an entire "reversal of form." Heretofore when an American beat an Englishman, one might have thought the king had died, by the gloom which settled over the English section, but today the American athletes received their share of all the applause.

Graeco-Roman heavyweight wrestling—Petroff, of Russia, defeated Humphreys, of England; Weiss, of Hungary, defeated Bensen, of Denmark.

Weather and Water

Coollest in La Crosse, 64; warmest, 78; wind, 4 miles; rainfall, .12.

Warmest in U. S.: Phoenix, Ariz., 106.

The river will continue to fall. Stage of water, 8.1, a fall of .2 foot; at Prairie du Chien, 10.8, a fall of .06 foot.

Weather forecasts today: Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Wednesday, warmer in south east portion tonight.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler in west and central portions tonight.

Weather Conditions.

Light showers have occurred during the past 24 hours in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and throughout the lake region, but fair weather prevails this morning in all districts, with moderate temperature. Shallow barometric depressions are located over Lake Superior, in British Columbia and in the extreme southwest. The pressure is relatively high from the Missouri valley to the Gulf states and in the north Atlantic states. These conditions favor fair weather in this section tonight and Wednesday, with no decided change in temperature.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliancy vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

TELEPHONE FINANCING

While many independent telephone companies are finding it difficult to raise money needed for extensions and improvements of their plants the statement has recently been made by no less an authority than the head of the Bell system, Mr. Theodore N. Vail, that the Bell companies have been financed as far ahead as next year. These companies, as a matter of fact, are better off than ever before. Last year they made a gain of over half a million subscribers; their gross revenue rose to a point above $114,000,000, and they have a plant uniform in character and national in extent which could not be replaced for less than $70,000,000 in excess of its first cost.

The Wisconsin Telephone Company shares in this general prosperity. In making plans for the extension of the Bell system as a whole, the needs of the Wisconsin Company have been provided for and it is consequently in a position to meet the demands on its plant due to its rapidly growing list of patrons.

French Lick West Baden Springs

The home of the famous curative waters. These waters possess all the medicinal properties that have made fame for the most celebrated foreign health resorts. They are unequalled for kidney and bladder troubles and stomach disorders.

The accommodations are ideal—excellent hotels—sanitarium treatments if desired. One can enjoy favorite recreations, or seclusion for perfect rest.

RACING LAW IS NOW IN EFFECT

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 21.—The anti-racing law went into effect yesterday. It prohibits bookmaking, betting or gambling in any form on horse races.

The races of the Louisiana Driving club were discontinued Saturday, but the effect of the law on the long winter season, which has been a feature of every winter in New Orleans, is in question.

G. B. Burhans testifies after four years.

G. B. Burhans, of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." BEATRICE WINS CUP AT CLEAR LAKE

CEDAR LAKE, Wis., July 21.—The fourth point race of the Cedar Lake Yacht club series was held Saturday over the triangular course in a light southwest wind which shifted to east just before the finish. The most important event was the class C race for the B. S. Weil memorial cup. Five boats started in this class. The Omeoni got away first, followed by the Clythie, Eugene, Rex and Cuspidor. It was a pretty race as all boats were well bunched until the north buoy was rounded. The Omeoni, Clythie and Eugene constantly changed positions all the way down the line, and within 200 yards

The Law of Average

Suppose you begin with six towns, on a test of newspaper advertising.

Or with six magazines, to get a national scope.

Suppose you spend in those six towns $5,000, and you create a trade worth $10,000.

Suppose for each $1 you spend in the magazines you can trace a return of $2. Would you not then spend, in the same way, every dollar you could?

The only thing certain in advertising is this law of average.

What is done in six towns can be done in six thousand. What is done in six magazines can be repeated in sixty.

There is no question about it. Once prove that results exceed the cost, and advertising becomes as safe as a first mortgage bond—and more profitable.

This is rather a new argument for an advertising agency.

Our revenue is a commission, mostly paid us by the publishers, on the amount that you spend.

It is the usual agent's commission. Yet a test campaign, such as we suggest, will cost us, perhaps, ten times our commission.

But this is our method for developing business. We spend in this way what some other great agencies spend on soliciting.

Our question is never, What are you going to spend? It is always, What are the possibilities?

If possibilities exist in your article, we are willing to work them out for you. We'll accept a loss until we succeed.

By doing that, for hundreds of clients, we have made this the largest advertising agency in America.

To Old Advertisers

We will do the same for old advertisers—for those already successful.

Continue your present relations, if you are satisfied. But let us have six towns, or six general mediums.

Let us bring to bear in that limited way the wealth of all our experience, all our ability.

See what new ideas we can work out for you. Learn what new view-points we can bring to bear.

Let our brilliant men seek for new possibilities. Then let the results decide who can serve you best.

Your risk is nothing. And it is possible—even probable—that we can multiply the results of your advertising.

We Pay One Ad-Writer $1,000 per Week

Mr. Claude C. Hopkins, the head of our copy department, receives $1,000 per week.

Every piece of copy that we prepare is under his supervision.

Mr. Hopkins has made more money for advertisers, in more different lines, than any other man who ever wrote copy.

His supremacy as a salesman in print is unquestioned. That is why he commands a higher permanent salary than was ever paid before in advertising.

Each man in this copy department is here because of proved ability.

All are men picked out, in the course of years, by the brilliant results we have seen them accomplish.

We are constantly seeking those rare men who accomplish the exceptional anywhere. And we pay what we must to get them.

Then here, in this vortex of advertising, in this fierce competition, they soon multiply their powers.

They learn what no man, dealing with one line, can know.

Our Advisory Board

Our Advisory Board consists of sixteen men, all masters of advertising.

Each is a man of proved ability and of vast experience. Mr. Hopkins is at the head of it.

Before this whole Board comes every important problem submitted by present or possible clients.

Here we decide what is possible and what is impossible, and advise all inquir-

"THE REIGN OF LAW."

A few months ago attorneys were defending John R. Walsh, the Chicago bank wrecker, on the ground that while he illegally and dishonestly appropriated the money entrusted to his care by depositors, and specu-lated with it, the depositors were finally paid in full.

Today William F. Walker, alleged to have taken half a million dollars from a Connecticut savings bank of which he is treasurer, which he is said to have used in speculation, is offering the excuse that he made good use of the money, and that if he is "let alone" his investments will pay and he will make good his shortage.

These men evidently believe themselves justified. In the case of Walsh, it seems certain that righteous indignation at the interference with his scalawag plans is the only emotion he feels. He does not regard himself as having committed even an impropriety. With the assurance of "Divine Rights" Baer, president of the Reading road, he assumes that it is his prerogative to use the money of those who entrust
it to him, not as the law provides,
but according to his own judgment.
So, also, some line of reasoning has convinced Treasurer Walker that,
there being money in silver mines,
it is right for him to invest the money of others in silver mines without let or hindrance of the owners.

There is something wrong in a social and business atmosphere in which this anarchy of finance flour-ishes. It cannot be merely the ego in these men which, in their minds, puts them above the law. We are creatures of circumstances, and when an erratic line of thought, insupportable in logic and conscience, becomes a fixture in the minds of men of ordinary balance, we must look beyond the individual for the cause. What makes men whose associations, if our ideals are correct,
are most elevating and stable, fall into the error that the black of crime is the white of probity? What renders our financial trustees subject to the color-blindness of conscience?

Probably the most potent influence
along this line is the unenforced law. We have too many laws that are not working. If it is right that one law shall stand unrepelled on the statute books, but shall not be enforced, why should not another law be treated with equal contempt?

We Americans have a mania for making laws, but we fail to respect our enactments. There is too much of a scramble for more laws and not enough attention to good laws.
"Reform" is the weapon of the politician. To succeed he must have his own "reform" and he must make it a law. So we have as many laws as we have successful politicians, and the success of the politician does not always mean the success of the law.

Of late, beginning with Roosevelt,
a new idea has appeared in our national organization. It is the idea of law enforcement. That promises to send some men whom we have taught to despise the law, to a school that teaches respect for the law. But these men we are sending to jail are not entirely responsible. We permitted them to acquire the notion that law is inactive. We gave them rope enough to hang themselves.
The men who know that the government has winked at anti-trust laws could not respect banking laws. The men who know the government has acquiesced in violation of the clause in the banking laws which limits loans, would not know how to other clauses in the banking laws. The next step after law evasion is breaking and we have conspired in the evolution of the felon.

We still need laws, but we need good laws. We also need to repeal a mass of bad laws. When we clean up our statute books, when we have lived through a generation in which there have been the right number of beneficial laws enforced rigidly and impartially, we will have begun a new era; we shall have entered "The Reign of Law."

HOYT FOR THE SENATE

It is announced in Milwaukee that a meeting of prominent democrats there joined in the opinion that the party would be most satisfactorily served, in the event of its success in this state, by giving its undivided support to M. A. Hoyt, publisher of the Milwaukee Daily News, for United States senator.

Of course this was purely informal, and can operate only as a suggestion, albeit a strong suggestion coming from men of influence and loyalty to the party. Basing our opinion upon a slight acquaintance with the publisher, and upon his unwavering devotion to the promotion of the interests of the Wisconsin democracy, The Tribune believes there can be no just criticism of those who have expressed the conviction that Mr. Hoyt is the proper man. He is of a pleasing personality, and leaves at once the impression of capacity and dignity. We believe he has the height and breadth required. Journalism, on a high plane, is a school of statescraft, and added to Mr. Hoyt's intimate knowledge of public affairs in this state,
he has a qualification The Tribune deems essential. He is a fighter, an uncompromising warrior along any warpath upon which he chances to be scouting.

It too seldom happens that our journalists are fairly rewarded for their devotion to party. Many politicians acquire newspapers for political purposes, but few publishers who have labored much and asked little are appreciated and fittingly compensated for the too often thankless work they do.

The republicans of Wisconsin are offering an able candidate for the senate in the person of W. H. Hatton. Should the democrats center on Mr. Hoyt, and should the New London man carry the republican primaries, Wisconsin would be ably represented in the upper house, no matter what the outcome of the election in which members of the legislature are chosen.

AFRICA LURES THE PRESIDENT.

(Washington Times.)

It seems that if you ask the president what the size of Taft's plurality is likely to be he will answer that it costs $250 for a license to hunt elephants under the Union Jack in Africa, and that if you're lucky you can put a couple of big fellows in the course of a few weeks' struggle with chills and jungle bugs and clear in the vicinity of $2,000. The call of the wild has even now begun to monopolize Mr. Roosevelt's attention, and the once hair-raising symbol of statesmanship is become the sport of spiders and grasshoppers and other pets of the nature lovers.

STATE POLITICS.

(By Fred L. Homes.)

The democratic state convention will gather in Milwaukee Wednesday to draft a platform and nominate a ticket. An interesting contest will be presented between the Aylward-Manson men and the Ryan boomers, each seeking control of the state organization. Senator C. H. Smith of Markesan is a candidate for state chairman.

M. A. Hoyt, the Milwaukee publisher, has been chosen by Chairman Manson as temporary chairman of the convention. In an interview Mr.
Hoyt says he will preach a political lesson from the gospel, which will make the reactionary element of the party cringe.

Assemblyman Falvey of Crivitz, who because of illness, attended the last session of the legislature but little, has announced himself as a candidate.

In announcing his candidacy for renomination to the assembly C. C.
Wellensgard of Berlin declares he will abide by the results of the primaries in the matter of voting for a United States senator.

The man who built the first cheese factory in St. Croix county, a section of the state which dairymen claim in a few years will be the richest dairy section in the world, has announced his candidacy for the assembly nomination. This republican, Julius Beer, has served in the legislature before.

The position of sheriff is the most attractive county office. In Dane county there are four republican candidates for the position and in Washburn county there are nine office seekers on the republican ticket for this one position.

Col. O. G. Munson's seat in the senate promises to precipitate a lively scrap. D. G. James of Richland Center, an old soldier, is in the field and R. H. De Lap of the same city is out with an announcement.

A blue campaign cap with a red band on which is printed, "Taft and Sherman," has been placed on sale in Madison and other Wisconsin cities.

Word from a thoroughly reliable source is received that Walter Alexander of Wausau will not "come out"
for United States senator as rumored. He is said to have signed Stephenson's papers.

W. H. Putnam of River Falls, a democrat, wants to be congressman from the Eleventh congressional district, where Congressman Jenkins and I. L. Lenroot are scrapping over the toga.

Assemblyman Frank F. Mueller, a druggist from Reedsburg, is a republican candidate for renomination.

Otto Onstad of Deerfield is a republican candidate for nomination to the assembly from the Second district in Dane county.

A. J. Dopp of Waukesha, a university graduate well known in Madison, is contemplating entering the congressional race on the democratic ticket against W. H. Stafford.

A report from Superior says that Senator George B. Hudnall may be a candidate for lieutenant governor.

O. P. Sorenson of Dane county, as assemblyman, says the contest in this locality will be between Stephenson and McGovern. "I hear little about Mr. Hatton or Mr. Cook," he says.

Byron Barwig of Mayville, possibly for the gubernatorial nomination on the democratic ticket, says that the labor vote will carry Wisconsin for Bryan.

A plan to bring George W. Spratt, former assemblyman and head of the Spratt Chair company, out as a republican candidate for congress against W. H. Weiss, democrat, is on foot. The homes of both men are in Sheboygan.

"For the first Wisconsin Taft club,
with the best wishes of William Taft." This inscription is written across a large photograph of himself, which Judge Taft has sent to the Lincoln county club at Merrill.

Senator James A. Wright of Merrill has opposition for renomination.
E. W. Whitson is a candidate for nomination on the republican ticket.

A. S. Baker of Evansville, assemblyman for two years and head of the Baker Manufacturing company, is opposed for renomination by L. C.
Whittier.

Assemblyman Roycraft has opposition in the first district of Eau Claire county from Richard Roether.
Mr. Roycraft was the champion of the binder-twine plant at the state prison in the last session of the legislature.

Charles A. A. McGee of Milwan-kee is said to be slated for the position of United States district attorney, when the office becomes vacant
by the expiration of District Attorney H. K. Butterfield's term.

W. M. Bray and John Hicks, Jr., both of Oshkosh, are candidates for the assembly nomination on the republican ticket against Assemblyman
W. M. Perry, who seeks renomination. Mr. Perry attempted to have the capital moved to Oshkosh in the session four years ago and offered a 40 acre park. Dr. J. R. Barnett of Neenah is being mentioned for the assembly office from the second district of Winnebago county in place of M. L. Campbell, the present incumbent, who is a democrat.

Assemblyman E. J. Keyes of Plymouth is a candidate for renomination to the assembly on the republican ticket.

Why He Didn't Come to Dinner

Capt. Pritchard of the Maureaania said the other day of a strange sea custom:

"All of us have our customs. We Welsh have certain customs, you Americans have certain others, and if ours seem strange to you, why yours seem strange to us.

"Stranger of all were the customs of a young Abyssinian prince who once sailed with me.

"The passengers liked this young man, and at the end of the voyage
they arranged a dinner in his honor in London.

"me yet what they want done to it—
and champagne no end—but the prince never turned up!

"Reproached the next morning by the chairman of the committee, asked indignantly why he had not come to the dinner, the prince answered,
simply and calmly:

"I was not hungry."—Washington Star.

A Practical Explanation

"Ah!" sighed the soulful young woman, sniffing the balmy air,
"there's no mistaking the spirit of spring in this glorious perfume in the air—"

"But," suggested the practical young man, "maybe that pungent smell ain't so mysterious, after all. I think it's the camphor off the last year's suits so many fellows are wearing today."—The Catholic

A Burns Celebration

Scotmen love to honor the memory of Robert Burns, and if only two of them can get together the event is celebrated in enthusiastic style.

It was on the anniversary day of the great national poet that a man was entertained by a "brither Scot"
at the latter's home. The whisky flowed freely, and at the "we sma'
hoor ayont the twal" the guest staggered to his feet with a view to departing. The host sat still in his chair, and summoning his servant,
ordered him to find a cab.

"Guid-bye," said he to his visitor,
"an' ye'll excuse me comin' oot. I'm afraid o' the draughts."

Then, gazing earnestly before him,
he added in a confidential manner:
"Mon, when ye get outside, ye'll see two cabs. Ye'll take the first; the ither's no' there!"—London Express.

Suggested by Memorial Day.

The helress sighed and shook her head.

"No, Mr. Dalrymple, I cannot marry you," she said. "The only man
I ever loved died at—"

A tottering, white-bearded veteran in blue strode past the window, and Dalrymple said:

"At Gettysburg?"

Then, with a coarse, unpleasant laugh, he hastened forth, and a moment later Casey's pool room swallowed him up.

I Wonder!

My Papa he was born some place

And Mamma in Chicago, where they

And I was born in Pittsburgh; and

THE IRON LORD

A Hitherto Unpublished Story of Immense Power.By
S. R. CROCKETT.
(Copyrighted.)

He stood a moment in astonishment. Truly, it seemed that there were many things that he must take back. He did not speak at once, but while Phil continued his eager search,
his eager finger scrambling up one page and down another, his fountain pen scribbling feverishly, and his mind happier and more content than ever he had known it, Vic Morris picked up page after page. All was in order, every pertinent case numbered and analysed, the technical words, at the meaning of which Phil
could only have the vaguest guess, written very plain; especially when Vic glanced at the unpretending drawings, each of which told its tale to his experienced eye, he could not restrain from clapping his pupil on the back with a hearty, "You'll do, you'll do!"—which was the best reward he could have made the worker at the close of his first day of business life.

"All that!" cried Vic Morris heartily. "I will wager that you did not take long over your dinner!"

Phil was aghast. It seemed that he had neglected a part of his duty.
"I forgot all about it," he said pen-itently.

"Great Stephenson!" cried the engineer, "have you not had a bite?
You must take it now."

"I forgot to bring any," said Phil with shame deeper on his face. "You see, I was so keen to get out of the house."

Vic nodded. He understood that.
He understood, also, how he had mis-judged his rival. But he was by no means a man to waste time in mere sympathy. He banged the door, and took a score of strides to the fore-men's canteen, from which presently he burst in with an armful of potted dainties, half a chicken, sufficient good bread, and a pat of butter.

"There," he said, "I never saw such a fellow—to go without his dinner!"

And, as the lad ate and drank, Vic looked over the notes he had ordered him to make, more, perhaps, as an exercise than anything else, and murmured softly to himself: "There will not be such an engineer's draughts-man and assistant anywhere when I have done with him! No, not in Britain. Perhaps even an engineer some day!"

And he watched him eat with something like a smile of pleasure on his hard face.

"Yes, I will make a man of him,"
he said, "and, if possible, an engineer. So that if the beast beats me with—well—"

he hissed out the name—"she will at least get a man, in spite of her ill taste!"

CHAPTER XVI.

Cross Questions—Crooked Answers.

It is characteristic of the two men that their new relationship made no difference to their rivalry with regard to Vida Bryan. Regularly every Sunday the broad shoulders of the underground engineer were to be seen towering above the devout in the Cameronian Kirk of the Hill. As often as not, also, Vic walked home with her, especially when Dick Finnan, detained by his position as ruling elder, was unable to leave the vestry at once.

In the forenoon Phil Calmont, whose father was a pillar of the Valley Kirk, was, of course, handicapped to some extent. But as every alternate Sabbath evening the Valley Kirk shut its door in order to join congregations with the Kirk of the Hill, and vice versa, Phil was able to recoup himself liberally. But, for some reason best known to herself, ever since the night of the meeting
in the cottage at the Glebe End Gate, Vida had removed the light of her countenance from both Vic Morris and Phil, not perhaps, to the same degree, but still markedly enough to make the latter young man demand
a reason.

And the reason she gave was certainly a curious one.

They were walking slowly homeward—that is, in the direction of Glebe End—by the "short cut" through the woods. The tall trunks of the Scots firs, warmed by the westerly light, which filtered through couches of dew, moisture, and the promise of the night's rain, were chromatically graded from a deep purple just above the roots, through deep red and orange, to a golden yellow immediately beneath the glistening blue-green umbrellas of the crown. The trees rose very high.
Very little and lonely, as it seemed,
Vida and Phil walked beneath them.

But, because of the souls within,
the flitting thoughts, the impetuous needs and vague longings, the quick play of sympathy, the give-and-take of speech; they were the true things of God, infinitely greater than all trees, than all His other works—at least on this earth on which they stood.

And, while Phil made his plaint,
Vida walked proudly alongside, carefully guarding a neutral ground of a good yard wide, between shoulder and shoulder.

"I don't see, Vida," began Phil,
"what you can have against me. You treat me as if I were a dog!"

Vida shrugged her shoulders with her habitual careless contempt.

"There are dogs and dogs!" she said.

"Meaning?" cried Phil with petu-lance. "That I am not once of the favoured, even considered as a cur!"

"You certainly do not need to be made of," said Vida, "you have had 'too much of that already—"

"Not from you!"

"No, I know better—from Rose Nunby, among others, if you want to know!"

"She has told you—"

"Nothing—do you suppose I would ask her? But I have eyes in my head, also ears! And—and I am not sure but that you ought to be very

"Q" CLUB READY FOR OPEN TOURNEY

LA CROSSE SHOTS EXPECT TO TAKE THE PRIZES

SHOOT COMES AUGUST 6TH

Shooting Organizations from All Sections Will be Represented in Big Meeting

The big tournament which will be held under the auspices of the "Q" Gun club is being looked forward to by many north siders and other enthusiasts. The affair promises to be a large one and preparations are being made to accommodate a big crowd. There will be professional shooters from all parts of the country present as well as amateurs. A number of the best shots in the country will demonstrate the different powders such as the Winchester and the American Powder company's products.

The tournament will be held August 6 and will be one of the biggest that has ever been held here. The local shooters are practicing well in the hope of taking some of the important events and those who are following the sport look to the local

LAKE CITY GETS MOTOR BOAT PLANT

NORTH SIDE LOSES FACTORY

Lake City Commercial Club Gets Busy on Boat Builder and Secures the New Concern

La Crosse has lost the Abrams boat manufactory, which the North side had a strong chance of securing.

L. W. Abrams of Minneapolis has decided to go to Lake City and associate himself with L. M. Gray and B. M. Smith in the manufacture of launches and boats. Buildings will be erected on a pond adjoining Lake Pepin, and a ditch will be cut connecting the pond with the lake sufficiently large to permit the free moving therein of boats manufactured. The new concern will be known as the Lake City Boat Manufacturing company. The enterprise is being backed by the Lake City Commercial club.

ENLARGED YARDS INDICATE A RUSH

Word has been received here to the effect that the present capacity of the "Q" stockyards at Savanna will be doubled or more to handle range cattle from the Black Hills and Pacific coast divisions. Arrangements are being made to take care of 140 cars a day or range cattle in addition to the local stock that is shipped each twenty-four hours.

This additional work will mean an increase in the yard force of about fifteen men who will be placed in service as soon as the pens are erected.

Back in the old days the stock yards there covered sixteen acres of ground and cattle from Wyoming and Nebraska were handled here by the thousands. When the slaughter houses were built at Omaha, this work ceased to go through Savanna, and the pens fell into decay. They will be replaced however, to their former dimensions, being more than twice the capacity of those in use at the present time.

The enlargement of the Savanna yards points toward a big year on the "Q" and the cattle that have to be handled at Savanna also have to be handled here, so there promises to be a busy fall for the railroads in this vicinity.

"Q" GUN CLUB WINS TOURNEY

The "Q" Gun club Sunday afternoon defeated the Ferryville Gun club by a good margin, on the north side grounds. One of the features of the match was the shooting of J. D. Winters who broke 51 consecutive birds and got a total of 103 out of a possible 110. The scores follow:

NO "SMILES" ON ALABAMA TRAINS

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 21.—Drinking, even out of one's own flask, on railroad passenger trains in Louisiana constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or both. This law, which was passed by the last legislature, went into effect today. The law makes it unlawful for any person to drink intoxicating liquors of any kind in or upon any railway passenger train except in case of illness. Trainmen are vested with authority as police officers.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 21.—William Pohlman, a somnambulist, cut his throat while asleep and only prompt work by physicians saved his life. Pohlman got his pocket-knife out of his trousers and did not awaken, he said, until the steel entered his flesh. Then he became unconscious from loss of blood and could not summon help.

WARNER EGINS TO PAY BENEFICIARIES

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 21.—Complying with a recent order of the Illinois supreme court, Vespasian Warner, United States pension commissioner, today paid $190,000 to his father's widow, Mrs. Isabella Warner, and $20,000 to his step-sister, Mrs. Minnie Warner Mettler. These are the first payments as a result of the court's final decision in the famous Warner will suit. Col. Warner also arranged to pay Arabella Warner Bell $20,000. He is executor of the estate, which, he says, will now be settled as soon as possible.

The amount due Mrs. Warner under the provisions of her husband's will is $250,000. In defending the action Col. Warner declared the widow had no right to the estate, saying she used undue influence to induce his father to marry her. He created a sensation when he alleged that Mrs. Warner had secreted from her husband that she had negro blood in her veins. The court declared this was not relevant and only a mere rumor.

NICE CATCHES OF BASS REPORTED

Henry Gund was also fly fishing yesterday afternoon and reported a catch of nineteen.

BRUTE ATTACKS GIRL

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., July 21.—For the second time within a week an assault upon women has been attempted along the interurban line between this city and Chippewa Falls. Sunday night a 12 year old girl alighted from a car and was attacked by a man who had been hiding behind a billboard. Passengers saw the attack and gave chase, but the man eluded his pursuers. Sheriffs of Chippewa and Eau Claire counties are searching the woods for him.

The Summer Camping Party

Gund's Peerless Beer

the beer that makes you feel that life is worth living. No man can once taste this splendid beer without pronouncing it a beer of commanding superiority and magnificent flavor. It contains, indeed, all the elemental strength of the choicest barley and hops, because it is brewed, not by any of the common processes, but by the famous Gund Natural Process, a peculiar and unique old German Process, which retains and develops in a most remarkable degree the life principle of the barley and the hop. In fact human knowledge and skill cannot produce a more truly and wholesome and delicious bottled beer. "Peerless" contains not more than 3 1/2 per cent of alcohol, enough to just stimulate digestion. It has been brewed and sold for more than half a century. Peerless when first produced, it is Peerless still.

Bottled at the home plant only. Sold at all reputable hotels, restaurants and buffets—but you must ask for it by name. The home trade a specialty. Try a case delivered this very day. Telephone, write or call. Taste it once and you'll remember it forever.

REPORT OF ENGINEERS ON WORK IS ISSUED

WORK TOWARD 6 FT. CHANNEL

Large Volume of Statistics and Figures are Sent to Washington on Improvement System

The annual report of the U. S. Engineers' office: Rock Island of the work completed or begun on the upper Mississippi river for and during the fiscal year ending on the 30th day of last June (June 30, 1908) which was sent through the head of the local office of Major C. S. Richie, corps of engineers, to Washington, D. C., the first of July, has been received and accepted there. The report which consists of almost a volume of statements and statistics is most complete and shows to the fullest extent what has already been done by the local engineers toward the six foot channel in the upper Mississippi river and also shows by its comparisons that the greater part of the work, however, is yet to be done.

In this report the statement of expenditures in the district from the mouth of the Missouri river to St.

BETTER THAN GOLD

Food That Rebuilds Body and Brain

"I owe a debt of gratitude to Grape-Nuts," writes a W. Va. young lady, "and I am glad of this opportunity to pay a little interest on it, although the debt itself I can never hope to remove.

"A few years ago I broke down from over-work and improper food. I was then in a preparatory school and my fondest wish was to enter college the following year.

"But about the middle of the term my health failed, and my brain refused to grapple with the subjects presented to it. Finally, my eyesight giving way, I was taken from the school, and sent to my grandmother's in the country with orders not to open a book while I was there.

The dear old lady tried every way to console and nurse me back to health, but it looked like failure until the day she brought back from town a box, which, had its contents been pure gold, would have been of less value to me than the little golden-brown granules which it actually contained.

"I did not care about being experimented on at first, but that was before I had tasted Grape-Nuts for breakfast.

"In the course of a few weeks I was back at school again, my health so entirely restored that I was almost a new girl.

"I am now in my junior year at college, president of my class and expect to take an A. M. degree next year. My good health has continued and my eyes, having been strengthened by the general build-up of my whole body, enable me to study all I wish."

There's a Reason.

ANNIVERSARY

Last evening a number of friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith of North Eighth street gave them a surprise upon the anniversary of their wedding. The surprise was rather upon the guests, for they were a whole month in advance of the date, but this is a world of progression and it all came right and every one enjoyed the joke. The bride of fifteen years ago was presented with a number of pieces of cut glass which she can have the benefit of a month earlier than if they had waited the regular time. A delicious supper was served, after which tables for cards were brought in and games played during the remainder of the evening. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames F. E. Davis, H. J. Hirschheimer, Louis Hirschheimer, E. H. Derr, John Moore, Burt Smith, W. F. Benton, A. E. Thompson, Mrs. Frank Smith and Mr. Fred Smith.

CARDS.

Miss Lenora Bachman entertained two tables at bridge yesterday afternoon. The prize was taken by Miss Bertha Hickisch.

MRS. LESLIE CARTER JUST HAD TO LIVE

NEW YORK, July 21.—Mrs. Carter-Payne, the actress, said right out before United States Commissioner Alexander in the federal building she simply had to live—that's all. That was the saddest part of her testimony in her examination before Commissioner Alexander under the bankruptcy act to reveal her assets. If there's one thing more "annoying" than another to a great temperamental artist it is this stuff of revealing assets.

From 11 o'clock until an hour and a half after high noon Mrs. Carter-Payne told everything—divulged about her assets. Lawyer Charles R. Caruth, acting for Receiver Ezra Prentice, asked the actress lots and lots of questions about her furniture and pictures, where did that ring go, and how about Christmas presents and the time she strolled out shopping and got $11,000 worth of clothes, and whether Mr. Dressmaker Hitchens was taken through her house at 115 East Eighteenth street by the butler, and how much Dave Belasco owed her, and how about Charley Dillingham, whether or not (answer yes or no) she gave Mr. Dressmaker Hitchens a drink and sent him at 12:30 a. m. out into the night.

150,000 MEN TO RESUME WORK

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 21.—Within the next thirty days practically all of the large factories and foundries in southern Illinois which were closed by the financial depression will be reopened and 150,000 men will be put back to work, according to data gathered by the East St. Louis Commercial club. By the end of next month it is expected that conditions on the other side of the river will be back where they were before the panic. Madison, Granite City and Venice, in which are located some of the largest factories in Illinois, have already left the return of normal conditions. Clouds of smoke and full dinner pails are getting more in evidence daily, and hundreds of men have returned to work.

PEEKABOO SOLON IN TROUBLE

ATLANTA, Ga., July 21.—Representative Glenn, who introduced a bill in the Georgia legislature to prevent women from wearing rainbow stockings, peekaboo waists and other alluring apparel, alleging that by such devices men frequently were trapped into matrimony, is being overwhelmed with threatening letters from women in various parts of the country.

Some of the letters are violent in tone. Three from Atlanta go so far as to say Glenn ought to be killed. Glenn seems to take the matter seriously and has asked the protection of the legislature. He says he also has got into trouble with his own wife by reason of the numerous letters he is receiving from other women.

MEET TONIGHT ON TISCH LICENSE

A special meeting of the common council has been called for this evening to act on the saloon license of William Tisch, who has applied for a license to open a saloon at 421 Jay street.

At the special meeting some time ago the application of Mr. Tisch was rejected, the council acting on the ruling of the city attorney that the attorney general had claimed that a license could not be granted to a new location while old locations were available. Mr. Tisch took the case into the circuit court and Judge Fruit ruled that it was in the discretion of the members of the council to grant the license and the special meeting tonight is the result.

Following this statement comes an interesting report of the work done during the entire year by the snagboat David Tipton (formerly Col. A. MacKenzie) and by the U. S. hydraulic dredge Hecla. The total amount expended for snagboat service was $1,024,584.

The report then gives a short history on the upper river work—of how it was started on a 4 1-2 foot low water channel basis and changed to a 6 foot—and continuing says:

"The existing project for the purpose of ultimately securing and maintaining a depth of 6 feet was adopted by congress March 2, 1907. It provides for further contraction of the channel, for auxiliary dredging for a lateral canal at Rock Island Rapids and deepening Des Moines Rapids canal, for repairs to existing work and for maintenance during construction. The estimate cost is $20,000,000, provided it be completed in twenty years, by the year 1927."

CITY PICNIC AT TREMPPEALEAU BAY

The committee in charge of the city employees' picnic met last evening and the plans for the outing was taken up. Alderman Harry Hirschheimer was authorized to communicate with the officials of the Burlington road and if satisfactory arrangements can be made the outing will be taken to Trempealeau bay. The Burlington road will be asked to have their morning train stop at the bay and the evening train stop and rather the picnicers for the return trip. Other details were arranged and everything is progressing for one of the most successful trips the officials have ever taken.

Tandems of People Brought to the City to See Ringling Brothers' Performance Today

My, wasn't that a parade!

It was a carnival of nations, a musical convention, a zoological garden on wheels, a fairland festival and a horse fair, all rolled into one grand display. It was the finest thing of the kind that was ever seen in La Crosse and the famous Ringling Brothers have moved up another notch in the estimation of the people hereabouts.

The procession was fully two miles long. It was led by a corps of trumpeters and a great golden band wagon drawn by twenty-four pure white horses. Behind these rode 1,286 people on beautiful horses, on elaborate floats, in richly draped howdahs on the backs of elephants and on ornate rolling thrones.

Six bands, one mounted, callopes, cathedral chimes, organs and barbarian orchestras played a variety of music. There were nearly 700 of the most beautiful horses ever seen, many animals displayed in open cages, a great herd of elephants holding each other's tails in their trunks, a 20-camel tandem team pulling an immense tableau and a thousand other novel and entertaining sights.

Thousands of spectators stood along the streets. They came from miles around by trolley, train and wagon. The afternoon performance is now going on in the big tent before a capacity audience, and the verdict is that Ringling Brothers' circus is the best on earth. Of course the 375 performers on the roll nearly all are foreigners seen in America for the first time. The program is all novelty from the opening spectacle to the thrilling automobile double somersault which is certainly the most blood chilling performance ever witnessed. The menagerie has many remarkable exhibits that are new to America, and the entire show has a bright new equipment. Tonight's performance begins at 8 o'clock.

RESUME SALE OF SEASON TICKETS

SAENGERFEST ASSOCIATION SO DECIDES TODAY

CONTINUE TO THURSDAY NOON

Reservation of Seats for the Opening
Concert Will Open at the Auditorium Offices Tomorrow

The general committee of the Saengerfest held a session this morning when it was decided to comply with the numerous requests of the citizens and again place the season tickets on sale. Since the sale of the season tickets was closed last week a large number of requests have been received for them. Tickets may now be had at all the drug stores in the city from all the members of the Saengerfest association and at the secretary's office in the Second ward school. The price of the tickets has not been changed, being $3.50. The tickets are good for the best reserved seats in the auditorium. The season tickets will be kept on sale at the regular places up to noon Thursday, when the sale will be stopped for the last time.

It was also decided to reserve the seats at the ticket offices in the auditorium and the seat reservation for the concert Thursday evening will open tomorrow at 10 o'clock. Considerable discussion was had at the meeting regarding the reserving of the tickets for the concerts and the committee finally came to the conclusion that the tickets for the concerts could not be secured until a day previous to the concert. The matinee tickets are to be sold at 50c and $1.00, the best seats selling at $1.00. The best concerts, taking place Friday evening and Saturday evening, will be sold at 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. The season tickets entitle the holders to any seat in the auditorium and they can be reserved at the auditorium previous to the concert.

Secretary Utermoehl this morning received word from the Riverside Singing society stating that their representative, W. F. S. Schoell, would arrive in La Crosse today and make arrangements for that society, numbering about 30. While the society is not a member of the Saengerbund they will come in a special sleeper and join in the festivities Saturday and Sunday. While in La Crosse they will make their headquarters at the Cameron house.

DOVE NO SYMBOL OF LOVER'S FAITH

CHICAGO, Ill., July 21.—When the first post sang the first love song and concluded with a sentimental "Coo-coo-o" he made a terrible blunder. For the lady dove, we are told, is not coy, but quite a man dove chaser, and many doves are now known to possess "affinities," even though they were married with much pomp and ceremony to first loves.

Loves-doveism never existed. Lovers simply have wasted their best efforts in trying to emulate the alleged little dove, and as for "feathering the nest," gracious, what an unconscious little joke! but don't blame the poet, because he was not a naturalist.

Prof. William Wallace Craig of the University of Maine, having studied the pigeon family a long time, presented his conclusions in a paper which won for him the degree of Ph. D. from the university of Chicago in June. The paper is published in the July number of the American Journal of Sociology, issued yesterday from the university of Chicago press.

DANGLES FROM TRAIN WITH BROKEN HEAD

NEW YORK, July 21.—Unconscious from a fractured skull, Joseph Murphy, aged 30, of Midland, Ont., today was dangled from the roof of the fast mail train of the New York Central for almost two miles through the Park avenue tunnel held by three companions who tried to save his life. Murphy and the three men had stolen a ride from Syracuse. Murphy was struck on the head by one of the gliders in the tunnel. His companions, who seized him as he was about to fall from the car top, said they were John Connelly of Buffalo; Michael Mara of Cincinnati; and George McCormack of New York, all iron workers. At the hospital where Murphy was taken it is said he will die.

DOCTORS DISPUTE SLEUTH.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 21.—Detective Richard Kelly's report to the international opium commission at Washington, in which he expresses the belief that 5 per cent of Pittsburgh's physicians are addicted to the opium habit, is disputed by Dr. Lawrence Litchfield, president of the Allegheny County Medical society.

"I most emphatically do not believe that 5 per cent of Pittsburgh's physicians are opium eaters," says Dr. Litchfield. "It is true that doctors, ministers, lawyers and other professional men are more liable to become addicted to the use of drugs than mill workers or laborers, but constant association with the city's physicians convinces me the report is exaggerated."

Kelly declares in his report that the use of opium in Pittsburgh is confined almost entirely to thieves, gamblers, immoral women, physicians and ministers.

YEOMEN CARD PARTY.—The Brotherhood of American Yeomen and their friends and relatives will have a social card party after the regular meeting Thursday evening.

FAVORED TO HEAD PROHIBITION FIGHT

PATCHED TEAM WINS AT STERLING

STERLING, Ill., July 21.—(Special.)—The La Crosse nine of the Wisconsin-Illinois league yesterday defeated the Sterling Infants of this city by the score of 11 to 5. It was a hard fought contest up to the eighth inning. Then with the score 5 to 3 in favor of the locals, Pink Hawley and his men opened fire and when the smoke cleared away the game was gone to the leaguers with eleven tallies to their credit. Rogers was in the box for the locals and pitched a good game up to the eighth inning, when he allowed a bunch of hits and together with a comedy of errors lost with eight runs against him. Nicholson played in good form but received poor support, the leaguers being made up of a rather patched aggregation of ball tossers.

SENTIMENT AND SUMMER MIXED

(Springfield, Mass., Republican.)
Nothing is more beautiful in the myriad phenomena of summertime than the swift response of the grasses in some delectable valley, where they are all in their joyous blossoming and fruiting, and among them are shining with the tall cups of their kindred at the edges of the woods and over the borders of the brooks. It is like a scene of enchantment, and the song-sparrows and orioles, the bobolinks and the gay catbirds are the choir of minstrelants at the worship of God. All this we have had, and pervading all the fervor of the splendid sunlight moves the inciting fragrance of the pines and the ferns, the sweet fern and the sumachs, drawn forth by these ardent beams. The summer gives generously, goldenly of its infinite wealth, and thereby stores our senses with such delights as they remember and recall when sight is both a memory and a prophecy.

LOUD BRAY AND SOLEMN AIR.

(New York World.)
For sheer balderdash about the desire of Japan for war with the United States, Representative Hobson outdid even himself in his speech at Denver. The convention showed its good sense by giving him unmercifully. To gain more notoriety by making a noise is his one great passion, and he is always in deadly earnest about it. The animal with the loudest bray is noted for its solemn air.

At a cricket match one of the players was wearing a rather large straw hat, and one of the spectators thought he would have a little joke. When the batsman was going down the pavilion steps to take his innings the would-be joker shouted at the top of his voice, "I say, mate, has ta' stolen th' donkey's bedding?" "Yes," came back the prompt reply, in a still louder voice; "but don't worry, lad, that can have it back when I'm out!"

When Ella Van Dross, a young colored girl, was tried before Judge Rosalsky in general sessions on the charge that, when Joseph Kayatt, a white man from Yonkers, asked her in the hall of 249 Second avenue whether the Joneses lived on the floor above, she stealthily removed a pocketbook containing $10 from his pocket, the jury deliberated only a few minutes and then returned with their verdict.

PITTSBURG TRIES TO STOP SUICIDES

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 21.—Pittsburg and vicinity are in the grasp of a suicide epidemic. Since the first of July twenty-one persons have ended their lives, while a dozen others unsuccessfully attempted self-destruction.

The frequency of the cases resulted in a conference called by Public Safety Director Lang, at which the police and health superintendents participated. While the conference was called for the purpose of taking up the matter of trying to prevent persons committing suicide, Director Lang said there was not much the municipal authorities could do.

BARS PEEKABOO BATH SUITS

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 21.—"No more peekaboo bathing suits," said the police department of Pittsburgh by Director of Public Safety Edward G. Lang. After making the round of the pools in the city the director was properly shocked by some of the "open work" costumes and promptly ordered the police to see that the bathers are completely clothed from neck to knee at least, under penalty for arrest for violation.

"Why, it's actually shameful, the flimsy apologies for bathing suits that I found on my rounds," said Mr. Lang today. "I really had to blush. I don't care if they bathe in a barrel. They can't bathe in the altogether and some of the suits I saw were almost that bad."

CONGRATULATIONS TO JUPITER.

(Washington Herald.)
In these piping times of peace, when nothing more formidable than the voice of the occasional spellbinder and the lay of the fish liar is heard in the land, when the real racket of the campaign is yet a golden promise of the future it is a pleasure to learn that Jupiter, the headliner in the celestial vaudeville of other satellite and is now ready to meet all corners in the satellite business who feel able to train up to the Jupiter class, which is heavy weight, of course.

We rejoice with Jupiter in his new-found dignity. An extra satellite or so must be more or less handy about the house. To be sure, we don't know what Jupiter did with the somewhat exaggerated supply he already had on hand, but we are sure it was something worth while, or Jupiter, who is one of the best regulated of all the stars, would have disposed of his collection long ago.

ANTI-SALOONISTS TO AID DEMOCRATS

THAT IS THE CALCULATIONS OF THE LATTER

CANNON WON'T PASS LAWS

Temperance People Have an Idea
They Could Gain More Chance
With Democratic Rule

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—

One source of help in their efforts to carry the house this fall to which the democratic congressional campaign leaders are looking forward is the anti-liquor influence. Members of organizations like the Anti-saloon league are expected to throw their influence in larger part toward the choice of democratic representatives. It is not expected the Anti-saloon league as a body will take this stand but there is much talk among those familiar with the purposes of the opponents of the liquor business that the republican leaders in the fight to control the house will have to encounter the forces of temperance and prohibition.

This is the way the anti-saloon forces are calculating: A republican house so long as it is dominated by Speaker Cannon will not pass the Hepburn-Dolliver bill or any such legislation to give the states control of liquor shipped into their borders, therefore, the house should be turned over to the democrats. Speaker Cannon has incurred the antipathy of the temperance and prohibition forces because he is charged with having packed committees against anti-saloon legislation. The three committees that have to do with such legislation are the judiciary, the district of Columbia and interstate and foreign commerce. These committees were so made up that no legislation harmful to the liquor business of the country succeeded in getting through. The district of Columbia committee of the house, for instance, was so composed that it was flatly antagonistic to the movement for prohibition in the district and that movement did not materialize last session; neither will it the coming session. The house judiciary committee was recognized as unfriendly to legislation calculated to restrict the liquor business, as was the committee on interstate commerce in the lower branch of congress.

Under such circumstances the anti-saloon elements are going into the congressional campaign in such districts as they see any chance of wielding an influence and, the democratic congressional campaign leaders believe, are going to work to a certain degree toward a democratic house. It will be the plan to make the fight in each district where there is a chance of accomplishing anything according to the situation in the district. A republican member of congress who has fought for legislation to give the states control of shipments of liquor sent into it, will, of course, be upheld by the anti-saloon elements. But as between a republican candidate and a democratic candidate each of whom is regarded as unfriendly to anti-saloon legislation of any sort, the democrat will be favored. In some cases, prohibition tickets will be put up. The theory on which the anti-saloon forces will turn to the democrats is that if a democratic house is chosen, it will be controlled by the old members among the democrats and these will be mainly southern men and prohibitionists. Champ Clark would probably be speaker and he is relied on to make up the committees if he ever gets the chance so that they would be friendly to such legislation as the Hepburn-Dolliver measure. This could be done by merely giving the recognition due them by length of service to the democrats of the south who are also as a rule prohibitionists because of the prohibition sentiment in their communities.

As the campaign for the control of the house gets under way, it will be worth while to observe the course taken by the anti-saloon forces. If they enlist in the movement to overthrow the republican rule of the house in the effort to topple over the regime of Speaker Cannon to the extent the democratic leaders seem to think they intend to, the congressional campaign will be doubly interesting and the difficulties of continued republican domination of the house will be in no small degree increased.

Men's Chains

A man has opportunity of showing only three articles of jewelry in his external dress—a ring, studs or stick-pin, and a watch chain. The chain is the conspicuous item. It is important, therefore, that its quality should be as good as the man can afford, and its style be distinguished for taste and character.

I have taken special pains in selecting a comprehensive stock of men's chains. I am sure you will say that the patterns are the most tasteful ever shown in this town; and the prices have sufficient range to fit every pocket-book. It won't cost you anything to look at them.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

Sores and Ulcers are indications of impure blood. They show that the circulation has become infected with germs and poisons, which are being constantly discharged into the open place to irritate the delicate nerves, tissues and surrounding flesh and keep the sore in a state of inflammation and disease. Whether these impurities in the blood are the result of some debilitating sickness, an old taint from a former disease, or whether it is hereditary bad blood, there is but one way to cure sores and ulcers, and that is to purify the blood. Washes, salves, lotions, etc., are often beneficial because of their cleansing, antiseptic effects, but nothing applied to the surface can reach the blood, where the real cause is, and therefore cannot cure. S. S. S. is the remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and removes every trace of impurity or poison, and makes a lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the circulation, so that instead of feeding the diseased parts with impurities, it nourishes and heals the irritated, inflamed flesh and causes the ulcer to fill in with healthy tissue by supplying it with pure, rich blood. WILLIAMS IN BIG COL. ENTERPRISE

FORMER LOCAL MANAGER HAS BIG RESPONSIBILITY

JOHN C. BURNS MEETS HIM

Boulder, Col., Paper Tells of La Crosse Wholesaler's Visit and Exploits Charley's Prospects

During his stay in Colorado John C. Burns made a tour of the fifteen light and power plants over which C. H. Williams, formerly manager of the Wisconsin Light and Power company, and later of the La Crosse Gas & Electric company, presides as general manager. During the stop-over of the party for dinner at Boulder, the party was interviewed by a reporter for the Boulder Tribune, and the following reproduction of the reporter's story is offered as of interest to La Crosse people:

Electrical Development in Colorado. "John C. Burns, of La Crosse, Wis., a delegate to the democratic national convention at Denver, Guy W. Fallon of the Denver Gas & Electric company, and C. H. Williams, general manager of the Northern Colorado Power company, have been guests in Boulder of E. A. Moon, the able and energetic general superintendent of the Northern Colorado Power company and manager of the local electric lighting and power system of Boulder. Mr. Burns returned to Wisconsin immensely impressed, not only with Boulder, but with the great future at the Northern Colorado Power company. He is interested in an electric plant and is a prominent business man of La Crosse, standing high in commercial circles. He was astounded at the remarkable electric development of Colorado and the stupendous enterprise undertaken by the Northern Colorado Power company. This supplies Boulder, Longmont, Lafayette, Louisville, Cheyenne, Niwot, Fort Collins, Loveland, Timnath, Superior, Berthoud, Eaton, Ault and every town and village of Northern Colorado is embraced in its present scope or in its plans for the future. These towns have a population of $5,000 people. It also furnishes power for the Denver & Interurban Railroad company, now operating 30 miles of rapid transit service connecting Denver and Boulder. It lights the town and cities named and furnishes power for their street railways and turning of nearly every wheel of their factories and other industries. At a great central station near Lafayette, where coal is at its very doors, the Northern Colorado company develops 20,000 horse power. It operates 215 miles of wire charged with 44,000 volts of electric energy of a high tension line. Mr. Burns is a personal friend of General Manager Williams, who has recently taken charge of this great concern.

The induction of Mr. Williams into office was one of the developments of corporate wisdom which will realize much for Boulder and all Northern Colorado. Given absolute power under the direction of that splendid genius, W. J. Barker, president of the company, with full rein to give the people of northern Colorado the best service on earth. Manager Williams is building up an enterprise of vast importance to this section.

Highly Impressed With Boulder. Mr. Burns fell in love with Boulder. He was a guest at the splendid $50,000 Elks' home. He was astounded at such a home being located in a town of 12,000 people, but after going through northern Colorado and seeing farms that have made the Great American Desert blossom as the rose, he instituted enthusiastic inquiry and learned that agriculture long since reached the point in Colorado where its products double the golden and silver streams from its mines and found the Northern Colorado Power company's most brilliant prospects were as a pumper of water for the ranchmen which will bring to profitable cultivation hundreds of thousands of acres of land in the arid regions of this state. * * * Boulder bricks seen on every street of the city in homes and stores and churches, the fact that we have mines back of the city that produce a million dollars a year, and the evidence of property seen on every hand appealed to Mr. Burns as reasons why the electric company's future is brilliant with promise as well as why the company should extend its lines in this city. The enthusiasm of Mr. Burns is justified when one considers what a stupendous enterprise this Northern Colorado Power company is. A writer in a Colorado publication

Tell Another Woman

We do you a kindness when we urge you to try Van Camp's. So, when we succeed, and you begin to enjoy this dish, please pass the favor on. Tell some other woman what she misses, just as we told you.

A business like this isn't purely commercial. It renders enduring service.

We have spent 47 years in learning to perfect one dish. The result is that beans—which are 84% nutritious—have been given a new deliciousness.

Millions of homes now enjoy these beans. Millions of dollars are saved by them. For Van Camp's Beans, to a large extent, are taking the place of meat.

So we ask you to help this good work along, when you learn how good beans can be.

We may tell you our story over and over before we induce you to buy. But, when you get the first can, you are surprised and delighted. Then let others know.

We depend for at least one-half of our trade on one woman telling another.

Please remember that millions of women still bake their beans in the old way. They spend hours in the process, yet the dish that results is not very inviting.

They bake in dry heat because they lack the live steam. The result is, the top beans are crisped, while the beans in the center are not even half baked.

The beans are mushy and soggy because the skins have been broken. The heat of the oven is insufficient, so the beans, in large part, are indigestible. They ferment and form gas.

The result is a heavy food, hard to digest. So they serve it, usually, only once a week.

Please let them know how we bake.

We bake in live steam, so no beans are crisped, no skins are broken. They are baked until they are mealy, yet they are nutty because they are whole.

Our ovens are heated to 245 degrees, and we bake in small parcels so the full heat goes through. We apply to every bean about twice the heat that gets to the center of your baking dish.

Thus the particles are separated so the digestive juices can get to them. The beans are all nourishment; they don't ferment and form gas.

Then we bake the beans, the tomato sauce and the pork all together, and get our delicious blend.

Tell your friends how different the result is from the beans they bake at home.

Van Camp's BAKED WITH TOMATO SAUCE PORK AND BEANS

About once a day in summer you ought to serve Van Camp's. You'll find that people don't tire of beans when served in the Van Camp way. And think what it means, in hot weather, to have meals ready-cooked.

Don't think, when you learn how good are Van Camp's, that other ready-baked beans are like them.

In the first place, there is a vast difference in beans. We use only the choicest Michigan beans. They are picked over by hand to give us only the whitest, the plumpest, the fullest-grown.

We frequently pay, for such beans as these, seven and eight times what common beans would cost.

We spend five times as much to make our tomato sauce as common sauce costs ready-made. We use whole tomaatoes ripened on the vines—not tomatoes picked green—not scraps from a canning factory.

That's why our sauce has that sparkling zest which Nature alone can give.

It pays to get the best beans, for the best are cheap enough. Give your people beans so good that they'll want them often, for beans are far cheaper than meat.

If somebody says "My beans are as good as Van Camp's," buy a can and see. Serve both brands together and let your people decide. We are willing to leave it to them.

Controlled by N. Y. Company.

"The company is largely controlled by the Hallgarten company and the Electric Properties company of New York, and their interests are represented by John F. Wallace of Panama canal fame. When the matter was first taken up the possibilities of the country, and his endorsement of the project was rapidly followed by negotiations which resulted in the majority ownership of the enterprise by the companies mentioned. The remainder of the stock is held by Colorado people, so that local capital is also extensively interested.

Increases Land Values.

"The great influence of the system of the company will be exercised in the advancement of land values and increase of the product of lands now under cultivation and those which will be brought to this condition by electricity. Throughout the entire length of the transmission lines there will be a 2,500-volt service carried on the same poles, and this will be used for local power and irrigation service. The average price for pumping an acre-foot of water, available eight to 30 feet below the surface of the ground, is between $4 and $5 per acre per year, making an increased production on an average of $25 per acre per year. There is a large area of ground along the entire length of the transmission lines which is above the ditch and it will be possible to reclaim all of this land by pumping water to it with electricity.

"There is the swamp ground of considerable area, which can be effectively drained by the same scheme of pumping and the water sold and delivered to the nearest irrigating ditch. It is estimated that 12,000 acres of land can be reclaimed by these methods."

Mines now lie idle because of the cost of hauling coal to the mills will rapidly resume because of cheap and reliable power furnished by the company. This will add great wealth to the community and bring increased revenue to the company.

In addition to the service to the above towns and power users, power will be furnished for the electric service of the Denver & Interurban railroad company, operating between Denver and Boulder, and for the street car line of the same company at Fort Collins. Power is now being furnished for the street car line at Boulder.

Most Complete Power Plant in World

The current of the system is generated at a steam power plant located in the coal fields at Lafayette, which is one of the most complete of its kind in the world. There is no handling of coal by human hands from the time it is shoveled into a car underground at the mine until its ashes are deposited along the coal tracks as ballast.

The water for boiler feed and condensing purposes is obtained from an artificial lake built for the purpose of storing necessary water. It has a capacity of 28,000,000 cubic feet. This lake is filled during the irrigating season and is sufficient for operating the plant nine months of the year without securing water from any other source. An artesian well was sunk for the purpose of getting a spare supply of good boiler feed water, but so far it has not been found necessary to use it, except for domestic purposes.

Capacity of 12,000 H. P.

The power house has a capacity of 12,000 horsepower. The equipment consists of four steam turbo-generating units, two of 2,000 kilowatt rated capacity each, capable of generating 3,000 kilowatts on overload. These units are for power and lighting service and the current generated is three phase, 13,000 volts and 60 cycles. This current is transmitted direct to Boulder over an eight-mile transmission line. For the main trunk line the voltage is stepped up from 13,000 to 44,000 volts and at this pressure is transmitted to the substations at Niwot, Longmont, Berthoud, Loveland, Fort Collins and Greeley. Louisville, Lafayette and Superior are served with a 2,400 volt service direct from the power house, and Timnath at the same voltage from the Fort Collins substation. Service to Lucern, Eaton, Ault and Evans will be at 2,400 volts out of the Greeley substation. Service to Windsor will require a new high tension substation at Windsor.

The transmission line to the mining district west of Boulder will be a 13,000 volt service out of the Boulder substation.

At the different substations the voltage is stepped down from 44,000 to 2,400 and at this pressure is distributed to a series of mains covering the towns. Stepdown transformers installed on the pole lines are used to furnish local service to consumers at 110 volts for lighting and 220 volts for motor service.

In addition to the two 2,000 kilowatt turbo-generating units in the power house for lighting and power, there are 1,000 kilowatts rated on overload. These units are for operating the electric service of the Denver & Interurban Railroad company between Denver and Boulder and the current generated is single phase, 11,000 volts and 25 cycles, and is transmitted direct at this voltage to the trolley wire.

Mr. Burns took home with him the most profound respect for this great system which his friend Mr. Williams has been called on to serve as general manager.

FINE VAUDEVILLE BILL AT THE BIJOU

The reopening of the Bijou theatre, after a two weeks' close, for Saengerfest week, was taken advantage of by large crowds Sunday and Monday who appreciated the fine vaudeville bill offered. The program is one of the best ever presented to the patrons of the little theatre, and capacity business should be the motto of the Bijou this week. Messrs. Elliott and West, singers and eccentric dancers, are first on the bill. The singing is the least part of their turn and only serve as an introduction to their clever dancing, the dancing itself being divided into two parts—straight and eccentric. Their fine appearance and effective hard shoe dancing deserve the well merited applause of the audience, while their eccentric and uncouth dancing, somewhat in the order of Stone's scarecrow dance of "Wizard of Oz" fame, had to be endured three or four times.

"In the Good Old United States," a popular song with beautiful slides, seems well suited to Mr. Petrick's excellent voice.

Mr. Will H. Field, Hebrew comedian, shattered all precedents in his particular line of comedy. Yiddish characters have not met with very generous applause by Bijou patrons in the past. This was probably due to the fact of a too discriminating audience. Mr. Field, however, has "the goods," and had to respond to several encores.

Patrons of the Bijou will hail with delight the return of the ever-popular and laugh-creating Rube Welch-Kitty Francis & Co. in their hilarious funny sketch, "The Flip Mr. Flop." It is almost as funny to witness some of the audience flop over in a conclusion of laughter as to see Miss Francis go through her uproarious stunts on the stage. The burlesque has been thoroughly revised since its presentation here last year, and is better than ever, if that is possible.

Those who delight in a hearty laugh cannot afford to pass up the show at the Bijou this week.

The Kinetoscope closes the bill with motion pictures of sympathetic and comic subjects.

WHY DOES A WHITE STEAMER

make good in every prominent contest in which it is entered? That is a question which greatly disturbs the "knocker" whose principal aim is to discredit the WHITE and in his zeal to establish himself as a wise one on the much discussed (and abused) topic of automobiles relates some of the most absurd fictions concerning the world famous WHITE. One of these fictions is that the White generator will "explode." Let us send you bulletin No. 15 just issued by the White Co., which contains a complete description and picture of the most famous steam producing device ever invented; namely, the WHITE GENERATOR.

As a matter of fact no well informed motorist any longer harbors the delusion that a WHITE can explode. Do you think for a moment that such world famous characters as President Roosevelt, the Princess of Wales and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt would use WHITE Steamers if any of the foolish fictions continually repeated by overzealous or misinformed persons were true? We hardly think so.

Why not learn more about the WHITE Steamer. Get acquainted with it and if after a close acquaintance you do not like it say so and give your reasons—but do not get your impressions of a WHITE Steamer from third parties whose principal aim is to discredit the car which alone is distinctively American, and is not a copy of any foreign article.

GLIDDENITES HAVE COVERED 1,141 MILES

POLAND, Me., July 21.—Shortly after noon the advance guard of Glidden tourists, headed by the Premier and Reo pilot cars and the Studebaker war dispatch press car rolled into town after a pleasant run through a picturesque and beautiful country. According to the route book the distance is 154 miles from Boston and incidentally the tourists passed through a portion of three states, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine.

As there was not a hill worth speaking of until the last ten miles all of the cars made good time and as far as known not a single car was penalized.

The cars have covered 1,141 miles of the 1,700 scheduled and will have a 141-mile run from here to Rangely lakes, where the last twenty-three miles will furnish some good hills.

SPRING GROVE BEATS CALEDONIA

CALEDONIA, Minn., July 21.—(Special).—The Caledonia Commercial and Spring Grove Indians met on the local ball ground Sunday afternoon. Spring Grove won after a battle royal by a score of 1 to 6.

Eiken and Wolford both pitched gilt edge ball and the game was in a large measure a pitchers' battle. Neither side secured a score until the first of the ninth, when the Commercial became generous, mixed up a couple of errors and handed Spring Grove one tally on a silver platter. In Caledonia's half of the ninth Eiken made the only hit of the game, a two bagger and stole third, but was unable to get home. There is great rivalry between these two teams with Caledonia having the best of the argument so far, having won at Caledonia July 4, 2 to 1 (ten innings), and July 5, winning at Spring Grove 5 to 1.

The line up of the teams Sunday was as follows:

Commercial—Eiken p. Hundt c. Merlo 1b. Duxbury 2b. Tietz 3b. Lovett ss. Zenner lf. Lommen cf. and Flynn rf.

Indians—Wolford p. Walhus c. Golberg 1b. Reque 2b. Solberg 3b. Crandall ss. Roppe rf. Terwilliger cf. Rosendahl lf.

Batteries—Commercial, Eiken and Hundt; Indians, Wolford and Walhus. Hits—Commercial, 2; Indians, 3. Struck out—By Eiken, 8; by Wolford, 9.

These teams will meet again at Spring Grove August 2. Next Sunday, the 25th inst., the New Albin Leaders will come to Caledonia for a game with the Commercial. The Commercial and Leaders have played three games this year, the Commercial taking all but only after a warm contest in each game.

We judge some men by their deeds and others by their misdeeds.

BIG DEVASTATION OF OUR RESOURCES

IS PROBLEM BEFORE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

ASK IMPROVEMENT OF RIVER

Serious Injury Threatened to Business Future at Connellsville and Vicinity

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.—The very pith of the problem which confront the national conservation commission is graphically set forth in a letter which President Roosevelt has received from the chamber of commerce of Connellsville, Pa. B. P. Wallace, president of that organization, selects his own part of the country as a striking illustration of the havoc which is being wrought by the devastation of resources. Conditions there are very pronounced, but they are typical of the dangers which threaten all parts of the country. And so Mr. Wallace's letter stands, in the view of members of the commission, as one of the best specific expositions of this problem which has come to light since the meeting of governors at the White house.

Injury to Business Future.
Serious injury to the business future of Connellsville and its vicinity is threatened, President Wallace says, by the dwindling and exploitation of natural resources. Connellsville is known as the center of the coking coal region, and figures are presented to President Roosevelt by Mr. Wallace to show that the annual gross revenue from the coke industry has increased in twenty-seven years from four million to fifty-five million dollars. But this heavy output is a tremendous drain upon the mines, and Mr. Wallace assures the president that it will end the coke industry in a very few years more.

And so Mr. Wallace concludes that the future of the region must rest upon some other basis. It can not rest upon the forest growth, he says, because that has already been swept away to a great extent, and will pass with the coal deposits. The future growth of the forests in that region will be materially handicapped, too, in his judgment, because the young growth is being cut when it is barely strong enough to serve as props in the mines. The region abounds in valuable deposits of iron, fire clays and silica rock, but President Wallace submits that more valuable than these, more valuable even than the harvests of coal and timber which have been gathered, is the bountiful supply of water. And he presents to the president the report of a civil engineer, showing that the watershed of the Youghiogheny river above Connellsville has a total area of 817 square miles in Pennsylvania and of 473 square miles in Maryland.

Water Supply Being Diverted.
But now that water supply, most valuable of all, is going the way that the other resources went. "Already water companies have organized," the letter reads, "and appropriated watersheds in this vicinity, and obtained from our people franchises enabling them to charge exorbitant rates for inferior service." Already, he declares, a company has tapped the reservoirs in these mountains, and, he says, "a volume of water several feet in diameter is rushing past our community to supply the company's needs elsewhere. Perhaps the most serious menace to the people's rights in this connection lies in the pollution of the tributary streams, into which coal operators are pumping the sulphur-impregnated water from their mines. This not only destroys all animal life therein, but also renders the water impossible of purification for domestic use."

Mr. Wallace goes on to show that the Youghiogheny river, upon the banks of which Connellsville stands, can be made navigable up to the city by the construction of locks and dams. That improvement, he says, is part of a harmonious plan which could be worked out to the advantage of the entire region. To make navigable the lower reaches of the river the plan must comprehend adequate provision for regulation of the flow from the head waters. In the dry season there is too little water; in the flood season too much. To remedy these conditions the construction of dams and reservoirs becomes necessary.

Plan to Check Floods.

Such a scheme of dams and reservoirs will check the floods which menace that region, according to Mr. Wallace's argument. The Youghiogheny joins the Monongahela forty-three miles below Connellsville and contributes largely to the floods which annually menace Pittsburgh. And the Pittsburgh floods are notorious the country over for the millions of damage which they do to property and commerce, and for the loss of life which they cause. "Yet these floods," says Mr. Wallace, "come down the Youghiogheny river past Connellsville. The water that Connellsville and this entire region is dependent upon is wasted in these floods. Its volume would suffice to generate enough electric energy to turn the wheels of industry in the whole region, including Pittsburgh. And when it should have served all these purposes, it would still be available to transport water-borne freight to and from Connellsville at all seasons. It is because of this enormous waste that this chamber and those whom it represents are interested in the work of the national conservation commission."

President Wallace Makes Proposal.
President Wallace makes a unique proposal for the improvement of the Youghiogheny river. He suggests that the entire project be placed in the hands of the chamber of commerce of Connellsville, subject to the supervision and control of the federal government, and in cooperation with it. No such arrangement has been made heretofore in developing American waterways, but President Wallace advances many arguments in its support. He points out the necessity that whatever rights shall be granted by the government in connection with waterway development shall be so safeguarded that they shall insure to the benefit of all the people, particularly those of the region or district directly affected, and not be susceptible of exploitation for personal gain. And he shows that the chamber of commerce is composed in the main of the intelligent and thoughtful people of the community; that it is not organized for the profit of its members; that it has no stock to inflate and no object but to benefit the region as a whole.

In going into the questions of jurisdiction which may be encountered in carrying out such a project, Mr. Wallace opens up what is likely to prove an important phase of the inquiries of the national conservation commission. He says: "It would seem, however, that an enterprise of this character may not be prosecuted to its legitimate conclusion without encountering the possibility of some conflict of authority and jurisdiction between the federal government and the various state governments within whose territory the proposed improvements lie. We now have a state commission in Pennsylvania, whose function it is to assume the regulation of the state waterways with regard to dams, obstruction of channels, etc. It may well be that where these matters involve at the same time the jurisdiction of two or more states, as in the case of the Youghiogheny river, more or less serious hindrances may be encountered. The writer's view is that the greatest good of the greatest number can best be secured through the federal government being invested with the general supervision and regulation power, subject only to such inherent state rights as have the sanction of constitutional or judicial authority. All have access to government, and all should welcome any tendency to prevent the possibility of sectional interests and influence being able to interpose a barrier between the people and their rights."

DEERE PLOW CO. WILL USE RIVER

The C. W. Cowles which has been purchased by the John Deere Plow company of Moline, has been thoroughly overhauled, painted and repaired and will be put into service in a few days. The company is attempting something new in the way of transporting its goods. Instead of using the railroad service as it has heretofore done, it is going to use this boat as much as possible and take advantage of the river. The boat is also being fitted up so that it may be used as a pleasure craft.

The small boy's idea of a crazy notion is the commonly accepted idea of a "sane Fourth of July."

CUT BY WIRE FENCE
MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, July 21.—Lloyd Bills, aged sixteen, was badly cut on a mass of barbed wire when he was thrown from the horse he was riding into a tangled fence on his father's farm north of this city. The horse became entangled in the wire and began plunging to get out, when it threw the boy. The lad was cut in seventeen places, and some of the wounds are deep long gashes. ROCHESTER LAD'S HORRIBLE DEATH
DURING A FIT FALLS INTO MOWER AND INSTANTLY KILLED
BADLY MANGLED BY MOWER
Farm Hand in Minnesota is Victim of Horrible Accident Early Sunday Morning
ROCHESTER, Minn., July 21.—William Barnes, son of Mrs. George Barnes of Farmington, died at 5 o'clock Sunday morning as the result of a horrible accident. He fell from a mower while in an epileptic fit and the sharp blades of the sickle passed over his head crushing and cutting it. The bar fractured the skull and crushed the upper jaw bones. The mouth was cut from ear to ear. The head was lacerated in every part, at least one hundred cuts appeared upon the face and scalp. Barnes was twenty-one years old. Besides his mother, several brothers and sisters survive.

MYSTERY IS SOLVED
FAIRMONT, Minn., July 21.—The following dispatch which appeared in The Tribune of yesterday is explained by A. M. Nelson, a newspaper man of this city:
"FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Special.—A huge mud turtle was found in the vicinity of Underwood this week with the characters '1710. A. M. N.' cut in the shell on its back. The turtle was found by Oscar Wilson. There is considerable speculation as to whether the numbers were carved by some early explorer, as turtles live for several hundred years."
Nine years ago Mr. Nelson toured the northern part of the state on a bicycle and one afternoon while resting at the roadside caught a turtle and cut the above inscription in its shell. He recalled the incident, long since forgotten, on reading the above article and thus explodes the fancy that the creature is a message bearer from the distant past.

LIGHTNING HITS CHURCH
ALEXANDRIA, Minn., July 21.—Lightning struck and destroyed the Union church in the town of Charles, six miles north of Alexandria. The edifice was built nine years ago at a cost of $25,000. In recent years it has been used by the Evangelical church. It is remote from farm houses, but the organ and a few pews were saved by farmer boys. The insurance is $1,500.

MEET TO BUILD LINE TO MADISON

CINCINNATI CONSTRUCTION COMPANY TO BUILD

AIR LINE TO THE CAPITOL

Estimate That the Cost of the Road Will be $900,000—Have Option on City System

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 21.—With the incorporation of the Cincinnati Construction company, which seeks to build an electric interurban railroad between Janesville and Madison, the first steps in the construction of the road proposed by an Ohio syndicate was made. The incorporators are all Janesville men, being J. M. Bostwick, M. P. Richardson, Archie Reid, P. H. Korst and Richard Valentine. H. H. Zigler, who represents the syndicate, with several prominent members of the company, is expected in the city tomorrow evening to perfect the organization.

Chief Engineer Joseph Ellis of Columbus has finished the first survey of the line from this city to Stoughton. It is understood the road will run from Janesville to Madison by way of Edgerton by what is known as the River road and cross the Rock river above Indian Ford. It will be an air line running to the west of both Lakes Kegonsa and Waubesa. While the incorporation is for but $25,000, the smallest sum that can be named, the road, it is estimated, will cost $900,000. The Cincinnati company has built several roads in Michigan and has others in contemplation, both in the east and in Illinois. It also has on option on the local Janesville street railway system.

Troop A Is Drilled by General Chas. King for the First Time in Twenty Years

CAMP DOUGLAS RANGE, Wis., July 21.—One record of the shooting Third was lowered by the Second regiment yesterday when Company A, of Marshfield, made 424 on collective fire, 25 points more than made by Company A, Third regiment, Neillsville. The score of the Marshfield company established a state record in collective fire with the new rifle. At 600 yards the Second regiment company made 11 more points than Company A, Third. At 800 it made 25 more, while at 1,000 the Third regiment has the lead with 11. The Third regiment still has the lead on the first three ranges of fixed distance firing.

Ahnert Gets King Prize.
Corporal Schwandt, Company F, a former member of the camp Perry team, was high yesterday with 151, which is three points less than Private Behnken's high Third regiment score, but an equal number of points ahead of the high score at those ranges in the First regiment. The King revolver goes to Lieut. Paul Ahnert, First regiment, Milwaukee, as his score of 396 on pistol firing was not beaten yesterday by officers of the Second regiment. Third Regiment Company Tied.
Company A, Second, not only defeated Company A, Third, in volley, but tied them in fixed distance, each company having eight qualify with 120, and thirty-one as marksmen with 98. After having carefully watched the three regiments, the Sentinel representative is of the opinion that the Second regiment is equal to the First in courtesy, a thing which was thought impossible. Both lead the Third in this respect. The manner in which the guard from the Second battalion broke from column of platoons into columns of squads yesterday afternoon brought fourth applause from all the officers, including the inspector, who were witnessing the ceremony. Gen. King was wearing a smile that evidently indicated much pleasure at the time.

Gen. King as Drillmaster.
For the first time in twenty-one years Gen. Charles King drilled Troop A yesterday morning. It was an excellent exhibition the mounted Milwaukee organization put up under the first drill master the troop ever had. When the command was organized in 1880 Gen. King, then a captain, was instructor in military science at the University of Madison and was engaged to drill the troop once a week, also to coach it when it was going away. For two years he acted in the capacity of instructor, but had not sat a horse at the head of the bay troop for twenty-one years until yesterday. Col. Morgan watched the drill and spoke most highly of it.

When asked what he thought of the battery, Gen. King said it was fifty per cent better than last year. He added that much study in the manner of hitting the horses was evident, as there was no complaint to make in that respect this year. A thing he found much fault with a year ago. The guns and carriages were in excellent condition and the set up of Capt. Westphal's men was a great improvement over last year.

A WORD ANENT THE FAMOUS $60,000 PAINTING

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

By H. de Mareau.

—painted in a Blacksmith Shop in Lyons, France, in 1893.

The canvas, 7x8 feet, shows with rare fidelity the glare of the forge, and portrays every accustomed detail of the surroundings with life-like distinctness.

The brawny old Blacksmith, as he stands intent upon his work is himself a type, showing fine artistic treatment, while the whole effect proclaims unmistakably the influence of a master.

The picture was originally sold for $2,500.00, it was shown in the Grand Salon in Paris and changed owners five times, each time at a much higher price, and is now valued at $60,000.00.

This superb example of technical skill, and artistic conception should be seen by everyone while the opportunity lasts.

We cordially invite the public to visit the exhibit as often as possible.

COME AND SEE IT! YOU'RE WELCOME!

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.

(Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.)
Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy stands;
The smith, a mighty man is he,
With large and sinewy hands;

And the muscles of his brawny arms
Are strong as iron bands.
His hair is crisp, and black and long,
His face is like the tan;

His brow is wet with honest sweat,
He earns whate'er he can,
And looks the whole world in the face,
For he owes not any man.

Week in, week out, from morn till night,
You can hear his bellows blow;
You can hear him swing his heavy sledge
With measured beat and slow,

Like a sexton ringing the village bell,
When the evening sun is low,
And children coming home from school
Look in at the open door;

They love to see the flaming forge,
And hear the bellows roar,
And catch the burning sparks that fly
Like chaff from a threshing floor.

He goes on Sunday to the church,
And sits among his boys;
He hears the parson pray and preach,
He hears his daughter's voice,
Singing in the village choir,
And it makes his heart rejoice.

It sounds to him like her mother's voice,
Singing in Paradise!
He needs must think of her once more,
And with his hard, rough hand he wipes

A tear out of his eyes.
Toiling,—rejoicing,—sorrowing,
Onward through life he goes;
Each morning sees some task begun,
Each evening sees it close:
Something attempted, something done,
Has earned a night's repose.

Thanks, thanks to thee, my worthy friend,
For the lesson thou hast taught!
Thus at the flaming forge of life
Our fortunes must be wrought,
Thus on its sounding anvil shaped Each burning deed and thought.

"THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH" has been seen by at least one person out of every seven in the United States. Seen—and enjoyed, it may be said, for the work appeals directly to the most untutored vision and the elemental sentiments of humanity, requiring no training in the art of aesthetic criticism to be fully appreciated.

The first impression is so vivid, so startlingly realistic, that for a moment the eye fails to take in the details of the picture.

In one's mind involuntarily there rises up the words of Longfellow in his eternal Psalm of Labor:

"The smith, a mighty man is he,
With large and sinewy hands;
And the muscles of his brawny arms
Are strong as iron bands."

Both poet and painter—though they probably started from far separated points of view—have wisely chose the smithy as the type of honest human toil. Each, after the manner of his art, has given undying expression to the universal sentiment associated with the simple village blacksmith and his toil. Perhaps that feeling is deeper rooted than we are apt to suppose. We may think it is a simple result of such experience as Longfellow sings of:

"And children coming home from school
Look in at the open door;
They love to see the flaming forge,
And hear the bellows roar;
And catch the burning sparks that fly
Like chaff from a threshing floor."

No finer opportunity for a study of the province and limitations of poetry and painting could be found than to mentally rehearse Longfellow's poem while one pores over Mareau's picture.
